

Linn County Cultural Coalition 2019 Grant

The Linn County Cultural Coalition (LCCC) is soliciting competitive grant proposals for projects which would promote and improve access to the arts, historical/heritage, and humanities activities in Linn County. The LCCC has approximately $20,000 to allocate for grants in this funding cycle.

The Linn County Cultural Coalition is a 501 (c)3 non-profit organization affiliated with the Oregon State Cultural Trust, which is an innovative state wide organization established to promote and strengthen cultural activities in Oregon. The State Cultural Trust is endeavoring to build a $200 million endowment that will provide a stable funding source for art, heritage and humanities interests around Oregon. The Trust supports cultural communities through a variety of grant streams, including funds for cultural coalitions in all 36 Oregon counties and nine federally-recognized tribes.

Locally in Linn County this funding has helped to support historic events and research such as: the Pioneer Association-Village of Learning in Brownsville, the Lebanon Community Foundation-Star Spangled Celebration, Santiam Hearts to Arts- Poetry & Art Contest & Gallery and the “Procession of the Species,” Children Program in Albany. Local Cultural Coalition funds have also been used to make improvements at the Harrisburg Museum and to purchase sound equipment for cultural events in Scio.

If you belong to a Cultural organization that has a project which would meet the goals of the Linn County Cultural Coalition, we encourage you to apply for funds through our next grant funding program; details are described below. The Linn County Cultural Coalition is also looking for dedicated individuals to serve on the Coalition’s Board and promote the culture activities of Linn County.

The Linn County Cultural Coalition’s goal is to promote and protect the cultural activities and assets of Linn County. Ultimately the Coalition, “Envisions a county with access to its rich and diverse arts, humanities, and historical heritage, a heritage which celebrates community pride and individuality.”

As a result, the funding priority will be to disseminate funds in as many communities in Linn County as possible.
